DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the “built-in ECC and calculation means” cited in claim 8 must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as “amended.” If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either “Replacement Sheet” or “New Sheet” pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

2. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a) because they fail to show “a built-in ECC and calculation means” as described in the specification (page 4, lines 8-9). Any structural detail that is essential for a proper understanding of the disclosed invention should be shown in the drawing. MPEP § 608.02(d). Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as “amended.” If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either “Replacement Sheet” or “New Sheet” pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

3. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

The following title is suggested:

NON-VOLATILE MEMORY STORAGE INTEGRATED CIRCUIT INCLUDING A USB TERMINAL, A CONTROLLER, A NAND FLASH MEMORY IC, A MEMORY
IC, AN I/O CONTROL INTERFACE TERMINAL, MEMORY CARD INTERFACE TERMINAL AND A MEMORY INTERFACE TERMINAL

4. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

Art Unit: 2824

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

The abstract is suggested to be changed as below:

Change "A non-volatile memoryand a memory IC" in lines 1-3 to – A non-volatile memory storage integrated circuit including a controlling IC, a NAND IC and a memory IC –

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

5. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

6. Claims 4, 5, 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 4 depends on claim 2 recites the limitation "an I/O controller interface terminal" which has been claimed in claim 2.

Claim 5 depends on claim 3 recites the limitation "a USB transmission interface terminal and a memory card interface terminal" which has been claimed in claims 1 and 3.

Claim 7 depends on claim 6 recites the limitation "a memory card interface terminal, a USB transmission interface terminal" which has been claimed in claims 1 and 6.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

8. Claims 1-7, 10-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Sukegawa et al (US 2004/015395).

Sukegawa et al disclose a nonvolatile memory circuit (200, Fig. 2) having a controller IC (210), a NAND IC and a memory IC (215, page 4 [0041]-[0042]), and a USB interface terminal (230), I/O controller interface (through Data Buffer 225 and Clock Source 220), a memory card interface and memory interface terminal (240), calculation means (CPU 235, Registers 245 and Protocol Engine 250), the device is packaged by a P-FBGA package or other packaging methods (page 4, [0043] – [0044]) as recited in claims 1-7, and 10-11.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

9. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

10. Claim 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sukegawa et al as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Chen et al (US 6,792,501).

Art Unit: 2824

Sukegawa et al disclose circuit as explained above but lack of showing a built-in ECC.

Chen et al show a similar circuit (Figs. 1-3) with a built-in ECC (270, Fig. 2) but silent to show a NAND IC. It would have been obvious to combine the built-in ECC in Chen et al over Sukegawa et al's circuit so as to detect address errors if one would occur.

11. Regarding claim 9, the use of NOR IC or SRAM IC in place of the memory IC claimed in claim 1 is obvious to one having an ordinary skill in the art.
